

KK's Reflection

Thriving as a CET Professional in the Future Landscape

AI COURSEWARE ENGINEER | LIFELONG LEARNER | EDUCATOR

I believe in lifelong learning to stay future-ready and adaptable.

 <https://kktan.com/>

 kk@kktan.com

STRENGTHS

- Commitment to Lifelong Learning: Certifications like AIAP (AI Apprenticeship Program), ACLP (WSQ Advanced Certificate in Learning and Performance), and DDDL (WSQ Diploma in Design and Development of Learning for Performance) modules reflect my dedication to growth.
- Instructional Design Excellence: I excel at designing structured and modular programs that can easily align with personalized learning trends.

AREAS FOR DEVELOPMENT

- Public Speaking Confidence: I'm working on becoming more confident in delivering lessons face-to-face or online.
- Impromptu Speaking Skills: Improving my ability to think on my feet and respond intelligently to questions.
- Collaborative Learning Design: I aim to make online learning activities more engaging and effective for learners.

HOW I WILL THRIVE IN THE FUTURE CET LANDSCAPE

"With rapid advancements in AI, I am well-prepared to integrate emerging tools into course designs."

"My strengths in instructional design and adaptability to technology position me well to thrive."

"By addressing societal challenges through education, I ensure my work remains meaningful and relevant."

ADAPTING MY PRACTICE

Integrate more AI tools into course designs for personalized and interactive learning experiences.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

- Attend workshops to improve delivering high-quality learning experiences aligned with future workforce needs.
- Engage in self-paced online learning courses to stay updated with new trends in instructional design and technology.
- Use reflective practices like Gibbs' Reflective Cycle and Brookfield's Four Lenses to continuously evaluate and improve my teaching methods.